Sir,

A belated reply to your interview with AsianDubFoundation (April 26) but I've just found the article on your website. You mention the group's single "Free Satpal Ram", a call to release an Asian gaoled for (so he claimed) stabbing a white man in self-defence in the course of a racially motivated attack, but you don't mention what Mr Ram has been up to since he was parolled in June 2002.

On May 7, 2003, following allegations of criminal damage and assault, Ram's life licence was revoked and he was recalled to prison. He remained unlawfully at large until April 18 last year when he was arrested in London, during the course of which arrest he assaulted two police officers.

Will AsianDubFoundation make a record calling for his release this time around?

Yours Sincerely,
A Baron
